The writer has seen crowds in Cincinnati, in Cleveland, in Chicago, in Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York, in St. Louis, Kansas City and Denver; but he is of the opinion that when it comes to the moving of a large number of persons in the shortest time and without the slightest friction, the Louisville street railway folk can give any of the named cities "hearts and spears" and beat them. It is the testimony of all observers who attended the recent Convention that they never before saw such a large crowd transported so smoothly and so quickly.

Sound the horns, lambast the drum, The Circus is in town.

Good people go to see the crowd, Bad boys to see the Clown.

Buy your tickets at Nelson's store, Then jump aboard the car, And put a nickel in Jim's slot, And he will land you there.

FOUR GREAT GAMES.

The Navies of Cincinnati Will Be Here Tomorrow.

The Navies of Cincinnati are coming here tomorrow with the determination of taking three of the four games from our boys.

It will not be the Navies whose names appear in the Cincinnati dailies, but picked players from the best teams in the city, and our boys will have to play all never before to beat them.

The Navies will compose the strongest combination that can be secured in Cincinnati.

Among those who will be with the team is Dilz, the star twirler of the Shamrocks, Billy Helleman, the sensational third baseman of last season's Paris team, and Schroll, the hard hitting left fielder that was here with the Y. M. C. A. team.

SMOKE STOPS.

The Shamrocks want to play our boys at League Park, Cincinnati, July 4th.

Willie Bill Wellner of Hamilton, O., will take Miller's place on the local team during the series of games with the Navies.

The Locals will probably play four games with the Navies this week, to wit: Tomorrow and Thursday afternoons and Friday and Saturday mornings.

"Chick" Crane of Cincinnati, and one of the hottest members of the Bluegrass League of '04, has been secured to play against until "Shag" Hall's finger gets well.

If the management of the local team accepts the offer of the Cincinnati Shamrocks to play at League Park, July 4th, there will no doubt be a large crowd of fans here to witness the contest.

Mr. Gales has the best wishes of his friends here and that his meetings will be a success goes without saying.

TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL.

A Young Lady Had to Be Removed From the Trains Here.

Mr. George B. Johnson and daughter of Ida Grove, Ia., were passengers on the F. V. yesterday for Richmond, Va.

When near this city the young lady became taken seriously ill, and on arrival here the father and daughter left the train and were taken to the Central Hotel.

Dr. C. C. Owens, the Railway Company's Physician, was summoned and everything was done by the hotel proprietors and the lady guests to make Miss Johnson comfortable.

We are pleased to state that her condition is much improved today, and that she hopes to be able to resume her journey this evening.

Her father is a newspaper man, being special correspondent for a syndicate of Iowa papers, and is on his way South for the purpose of writing up that section for the benefit of Northern readers. The daughter accompanies him for the benefit of her health.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN!

DON'T BE TAKEN IN BY THE FAIRIES AND THIEVES WHO FOLLOW THE CIRCUS.

The circus is here!

And so the gang of thieves that usually follow it.

The former is a big thing.

And so is the gang.

It isn't the circus people who engage in rascality—they do, what they can to prevent it.

But it's the fakirs and shell workers and pickpockets who follow in the wake of the circus.

It's a good day to keep your doors locked and your eyes and ears open.

It's a good day to refuse change for $10 and $30 bills unless you're an expert at counting and judging money.

It's a good day to keep your hands on your pocket-books.

And if some fellow tries to huncy you, Just press the button.

And Chief Ott will do the rest.

There's a tremendous crowd in the city, and the indications are that it will be handsomely entertained, for the Wallace Shows are indisputably the best on earth.

In the absence of Mr. Harrison the Press Agent the honors are in charge of Colonel Chillicoit, a most affable gentleman, whose duty and pleasure are to see that all bills against the show are fully met before the doors open, and that no one has a grievance unaddressed.

The Wallace Shows come to us with unquestioned indorsement by press and people wherever they have exhibited.

A. N. Huff is building a neat veranda in front of Mr. I. N. Porter's cottage on Third street East of Plum.

A musical entertainment was given last night at the home of Mr. George W. Chambers in Clifton in honor of Miss Emma Lee, Lucy Schrieber and Jessie Krick of Portsmouth. Quite an enjoyable time was spent.

Powerful salina and other drastic purgatives should be strictly avoided, except in extreme cases. When an aperient is called for, take Ayer's Pills. They restore natural action by imparting strength and tone to the bowels, and their use is always attended with good results.

FORCED TO THE WALL!

THOMAS L. BEST ASIGNS YESTERDAY, OWING ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Mr. Thomas L. Best, one of Mason county's most respected citizens, was forced to the wall yesterday, but his embarrassment promises to be only temporary.

For years he has been a heavy dealer in tobacco, but his transactions were never assumed a "speculative" character beyond the fact that they were based upon a conservative judgment as to future and legitimate profits.

The death of trade that has existed for the past eighteen months, coupled with an unprecedented decline in values of all commodities, have been disastrous to all large holders, and Mr. Best has proven no exception.

The recent favorable turn in the market was assurance to him and his main creditors that he would pull through handsomely.

But I. N. Walker & Co. of Cincinnati, to whom he owed about $2,300, and who were among the smallest creditors, were obdurate, and as they had instructed their attorney to sue, there was no alternative for Mr. Best other than an assignment, as he wished to treat all his creditors alike.

Shortly before noon yesterday Mr. Best filed a deed of trust, conveying all his property to Messrs. Charles B. Pearce, Jr., and W. W. Gault, saving only the homestead and other exemptions allowed by law, to be by them sold and the proceeds applied pro rata to the payment of his debts.

Messrs. Pearce and Gault received the trust, with Charles B. Pearce and Ross P. Gault on their bond.

The assigned property comprises the Poyntz farm of 181 acres on which there is a lien of $13,000, 106 acres of the North river land on which there is a lien of $6,000, together with a large amount of live stock, tobacco and other personalty, aggregating probably $37,000.

The liabilities have been so variously and so widely stated that THE LEADER has been at pains to ascertain the true amount, which is, as near as possible, to obtain in round numbers, $105,000.

The difference between what the figures show Mr. Best to owe and what he owns would appal most men; but he has for years been accustomed to handling large sums, and THE LEADER predicts that he will, if no misfortune overtakes him, pay every dollar that he owes.

NOT VOTED OUT.

Hon. R. C. Burns Fairly Beaten for the Nomination.

Lexington Leader.

Two gentlemen sitting at the Secretary's table at the Republican State Convention made hard off hand footings of the votes in all races as announced by the reading secretary, which were entirely independent of the official tabulated vote by counties kept by the Recording Secretary for permanent reference. In nearly every instance these hurried footings were found to agree absolutely with the official figures.

In the confusion attending the last ballot for Attorney General, and the frequent changes and repetitions, it was difficult to make these mental footings as the votes were announced, and one gentleman figured Burns the nominee by simply adding up the official tabulated vote by figures gave Taylor the nomination by about 80.

Each expressed confidence in his calculation and the Recording Secretary's official tabulated vote by counties was applied to get verification. The columns were footed up carefully and proved the nomination of Taylor by 3-5 of a vote more than the majority figured out for him in the hasty footings made as the vote progressed.

The result was announced and Mr. Taylor was declared the nominee. Scores of wideawake friends of Taylor and Burns kept a running tally of the vote, and not one questioned the announcement. Hon. W. G. Hunter's footing of the Taylor vote was 704, being six more than the Secretary's report gave him.

The gentleman who had figured Mr. Burns out a winner took the tabulated returns and revised them carefully, finding that they tallied exactly with the vote as announced. He expressed himself as entirely satisfied and there the matter would have ended but for the fact that the friendly dispute had been overheard by all those standing about and some one started the report that there was a question whether Mr. Taylor had been actually nominated.

Learning that these reports had reached Mr. Burns, the Secretary took the liberty of turning over to him for fullest inquiry whenever he saw fit the tabulated vote by counties and the official footings as announced. Mr. Burns has this tally sheet now in his possession as a refutation of the senseless story.

The recording secretary, who kept the official tally sheet, although not a delegate, was an enthusiastic supporter of Mr. Burns in preference to Mr. Taylor, and the gentleman at the Secretary's table, whose unofficial footings agreed exactly with the tabulated vote, had actually cast his vote for Mr. Burns on that very ballot, and that there was no shadow of excuse for the story published in a Louisville paper in that Mr. Burns was "counted out."

ON THE DEEPFISH.

Ye Sail in Sight, and Nothing But a Grace at Sea Ahead.

Portsmouth Blade.

T. B. A. Anderson of Mason county, Ky., who travels for a fertilizer works of Louisville, is in the city today. Mr. Anderson is a wait from an Ohio river wreck. He and some forty or fifty more passengers were on the steamer St. Louis, which was wrecked on the night of the 20th inst. at the mouth of the Ohio river near Manchester. The steamer had struck on the bar previously and is a friendly effort to get her off the St. Lawrence's wreck. After an immense amount of pulling and hauling to get off the boats and crews reigned themselves to their fate. There were prayers in the cabin and signals of distress hung out from the masts. Some of the passengers wrote missives to home and friends and commended them to the deep. The boats, which were sadly empty, when all hope seemed gone and a watery grave stared the awe-stricken oathways in the face, some bright youth rolled up his pants and waded ashore. This was the prayer for help answered and the boat, having their feet over the guard rail and study scenery in Kentucky while they waded to the shore without getting their clothes wet.
